Subject : Fire Incident on CSCL Vancouver 0120E / 0121W under EIN service

Dear Valued Customers,

We were told that Cosco operating vessel, “CSCL Vancouver” 0120E / 0121W, which was in fire incident on her way to Shanghai from Qingdao on 5th August is still in inner anchorage of Shanghai, while containers affected by the fire incident are under inspection at Shanghai terminal.

It was said by the vessel operator that m/v “CSCL Vancouver” is going to sail to Ningbo to discharge all the cargoes on board, in order to proceed with further inspection by Class Society. Cargoes discharged from CSCL Vancouver 0121W will be transshipped on Xin Da Lian 0033W, which is expected to arrive at Ningbo on 6th September, and will be discharged at original PODs.

The cargoes which were discharged at Shanghai for inspection will be loaded on Xin Da Lian 0033W on 4th September and will be discharged at original PODs.

We will closely monitor the situation and will keep you informed of any updates.

SM Line appreciates your continued support and understanding for this unexpected delay in cargo arrival. We will make every effort to get everything normalized as quickly as possible. Please discuss with our Sales or Customer Service representative if you have further question regarding SM Line services.

Sincerely Yours,

SM Line Corporation.
