

2 December 2024

The Network of the Future: Update on Middle East & India – Europe

Dear Customer,

We are writing to tell you that The Network of the Future is now opening for bookings! Please note that standard booking windows apply. For more information, reach out to your customer representative.

Below you will find updated information on changes to the service set up on the scope of Middle East & India – Europe, as part of the Network of the Future:

Last sailing under the current services:

Scope	Service	Vessel Name	Voyage Number	Last Departure from	Departure Date
Middle East & India - Mediterranean	ME8	MAERSK CHAMBAL	505W	Salalah	13/Feb/25
Middle East & India - North Europe	ME2	GSL ELENI	505W	Nhava Sheva	7/Feb/25
Red Sea shuttle	409	SANTA ROSA	507W	Jeddah	11/Feb/25

First sailing on services under Network of the Future:

Scope	Service	Vessel Name	Voyage Number	First Departure from	Departure Date
Middle East & India - Mediterranean	ME11	ANGELICA MAERSK	506W	Salalah	19/Feb/25
Middle East & India - North Europe	ME1	HOUSTON EXPRESS	506W	Salalah	18/Feb/25
Middle East & India - North Europe	ME2	MAERSK STADELHORN	507W	Colombo	15/Feb/25
Red Sea	Jeddah 1	AS NINA	507W	Jeddah	13/Feb/25
Red Sea	Jeddah 2	GSL TINOS	508W	Jeddah	17/Feb/25
Red Sea	Jeddah 3	To be confirmed	506W	Jeddah	To be confirmed

As you may be aware, under the Network of the Future, our mainliner services are designed to be 'leaner', with half the average amount of port calls per service rotation, compared to today. This means the average number of stops a container will make between the origin and final destination will decrease significantly.

These mainliner services will be complemented by an extensive network of intra-regional shuttles. Our intraregional shuttles will connect hub terminals to strategic gateways, from which mainliners depart, and will mostly have 2 port calls per service, aiming to give more reliability to logistics moves.

First sailing on shuttle services in the Middle East:

Service Name	Service	Vessel Name	Departure from	Departure Date
Middle East Shuttle 3	M03	ELENI T	Salalah	5/Feb/25
Middle East Shuttle 4	M04	RIO KOBE	Sohar	9/Feb/25
Middle East Shuttle 5	M05	SEADREAM	Dammam	4/Feb/25

If you have any questions regarding how these changes may impact your cargo, please feel free to reach out to your local Maersk representative via our Live Chat channel. Additionally, you can find further information through the following links:

- Local information: <https://www.maersk.com/local-information>
- Network of the Future information: <https://www.maersk.com/network-of-the-future>
- Schedule Information: <https://www.maersk.com/schedules/>

We look forward to continuously serving your global transport and logistics needs through the Network of the Future.

Sincerely,
Maersk A/S